

BRINGING theatre INTO THE CLASSROOM

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR K-12 TEACHERS

“A permanent game changer for my entire curriculum.”

—BTiC Participant

BTiC is an engaging, fun, five-day intensive summer workshop that will teach you ways to successfully integrate drama into your entire curriculum.

Presented in collaboration with Book-it Repertory Theatre, Pacific Northwest Ballet, Seattle Children's Theatre, and Seattle Repertory Theatre

July 15-19, 2019 @ Seattle Repertory Theatre | 155 Mercer Street • Seattle, WA

Seattle Children's Theatre, Seattle Repertory Theatre, Book-It Repertory Theatre, and Pacific Northwest Ballet bring you one of the best summer workshops you'll ever take!

During the hands-on workshops offered throughout the week, you'll “try out” curriculum in a supportive environment with professional Teaching Artists, then receive a wealth of detailed, easy-to-follow lesson plans.

At the end of the summer, you'll have the chance to sign up for a follow-up consultation during the school year. A BTiC faculty member will travel to your school to work as a collaborator, coach, or co-teacher, as you integrate lessons learned during the summer workshop into practical lesson plans.

SOME OF THE MANY PERKS OF BTiC INCLUDE:

- 30 clock hours or 3 university credits available
- Tuition is $550; scholarships available.
Apply before June 1, 2019.
- Get $50 off when you register before May 17!
- Creative Advantage schools may qualify for funding.
Contact us today about how you can use Creative Advantage funds for BTiC!

For more information please contact: Sarah Lloyd | 206.859.4015 x.1164 | btic@sct.org or visit: www.sct.org/For-Educators/BTiC

For live updates on workshop instructors, partner organizations, and curriculum visit our Facebook event page.

BTiC is presented as a collaboration between

